Smiles Across Miami

Ana Karina Mascarenhas, BDS, MPH, DrPH, Associate Dean -
Research, Chief, Developmental Sciences, Nova Southeastern
University College of Dental Medicine

Nova Southeastern University College of Dental Medicine “Smiles Across Miami” is a program to train medical staff, primarily school nurses associated with the Health Connect in Our Schools program in the Miami-Dade school system through the Children’s Trust to screen for oral diseases, particularly dental caries, provide oral health counseling and a fluoride varnish application, and to make a referral for children identified as needing further treatment from a dentist. It is well known that oral diseases have a direct and devastating effect on the health of children and has a serious impact on children’s readiness for school and ability to succeed. Therefore preventing dental diseases and treating early reversible diseases is critically important. Caries preventive agents such as fluoride varnish and sealants are effective in preventing and reversing early caries. When included in existing School Health Programs these services increase efficiency and are sometimes the only dental services available to low-income school children.

Celebrating 70 Years of Water Fluoridation and Implementation of New National Water Fluoridation Recommendations;

Johnny Johnson, Jr., DMD, MS Co-Chair OHF Fluoridation Action Team,
Pediatric Dentist, Diplomate American Board of Pediatric Dentistry

2015 marks the 70th anniversary of the beginning of water fluoridation in the U.S. This has been a remarkable public health achievement that has markedly improved the oral health of the U.S. population. This session will review progress and accomplishments over the past 70 years. The development and release of the HHS recommendation for Fluoride Concentration in Drinking Water for Prevention of Dental Caries will be reviewed in context of the current state and federal environment. The challenges and opportunities for maintaining and expanding water fluoridation in the future will be presented.

Evidence-Based Strategies for Improving Older Adult Oral Health

Moderators: Nolan Allen, DDS & Bob Macdonald, Co-Chair OHF Senior Action Team;

Speakers: Andie Kyros, RDH, MPH; Program Coordinator Wisdom Tooth Project, Oral Health America

Luis Garabis, DDS; , Dental Director, PrevMED – Dental Case Management/Mid America Professional Group, PC

Jennifer Wahby, MPH Candidate, Senior Health Services Analyst, University of Florida College of Dentistry/Public Health Dental Program, FDOH

The percentage of the U.S. population that are older adults (people aged 65 years or older) is expanding as people live longer and members of the baby-boom generation born 1946-1964 reach age 65. The need for dental services among older adults is increasing even more rapidly due to their retaining more of their natural dentition. Access to oral health services has not kept pace with the demand for services. Policy makers demand evidence-based programs and strategies to maximize investment and reach as many older adults as possible. This seminar will highlight the MMA expanded benefits for adult dental services in Florida. Two programs will highlight their efforts: Oral Health America's Wisdom Tooth Project and the Mid America Health/PrevMED program serving older adults in Florida. FL DOH will provide an overview of the upcoming Older Adult Oral Health Surveillance Project.

Using Hospital Emergency Departments in Florida for Dental Problems: The Magnitude of the Problem and Promising Solutions

Moderator: Frank Catalanotto, DMD, Professor, Department of Community Dentistry and Behavioral Sciences, University of Florida College of Dentistry, Director, Southeast Center for Research to Reduce Disparities in Oral Health, Chair, Board of Directors, Oral Health America

Speakers: Scott Tomar, DMD, MPH, DrPH; Professor & Interim Chair, University of Florida College of Dentistry, Dept. of Community Dentistry & Behavioral Science, Editor, Journal of Evidence-Based Dental Practice
Donna Carden, MD; Director of Faculty Development for the Department of Emergency Medicine at the University of Florida, is a Diplomat of the American Board of Emergency Medicine and Fellow of the American College of Emergency Physicians

Jolene Paramore, DMD, Second Vice President, Florida Dental Association

Reactor: Representative Cary Pigman, Florida House of Representatives (Emergency Medicine Physician)

Florida's hospital emergency departments (EDs) are increasingly being used by adults to address dental problems. The purpose of this session is to examine those patterns and trends, and highlight some successful models for diverting such cases to more effective and cost-effective settings for dental care. The first presentation will review some of the national and Florida specific data about Emergency Department use for dental problems including numbers of visits and financial impact. This session will then hear about the perspectives of an ED physician who has provided care to dentally involved patients in the UF Health Shands ED. There will be a presentation by a representative of the Florida Dental Association about national and state models of how to address ED use for dental problems. Finally, a Florida House of Representatives member who is an ED physician will provide reaction and perspective from his multiple roles. There will be time for audience participation and discussion.
